

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A freight management method, comprising
  - sensing a condition on a freight asset;
  - transmitting the information concerning the sensed condition over a wireless system to a monitor system in one format;
  - translating the information concerning the sensed condition into a second format;
  - transmitting the information concerning the sensed condition from the monitor system in the second format to a user capable of receiving in the second format.